FIGHTING IS ENDED IN NORTHERN MEXICO

Villa Reports Federals Fleeing and Bankrupt—"Nothing Else to Fight For", Says the Victorious Leader.

CIVIL GOVERNMENT BEING ESTABLISHED

Federal Officer, Left for Dead on Field, Staggers Into Capitol—Wife of British Vice Consul Describes Horrors of War in Monterey.

By Associated Press.

Juarez, Mexico, Dec.—4.—While looting by isolated bands or confiscation of property by the Rebels may continue, the days of fighting in northern Mexico are numbered so far as the present revolution is concerned, according to opinions expressed by Rebel leaders today.

Gen. Villa's assertion that there was not much more to fight for in the north because of the bankrupt condition of the Federal army which caused it to evacuate so important a city as Chihuahua, has spread among the Rebels.

What most immediately concerns the so-called Constitutionalists party now is the elaboration of its civil government. The Rebels hold all the important border towns except Nuevo Laredo and Piedras Negras opposite Eagle Pass.

Many Governors and state officials are to be elected. Within a short time, leaders say, a Government will be in operation in the north half of the country which will be entirely independent of that in Mexico City. Villa expects to leave to Carranza the task of establishing civil government, devoting himself to the military campaign south of Mexico City.

HID IN CELLAR

St. Louis, December 4.—Mrs. John B. Sanford, wife of the British Vice Consul at Monterey, arrived here today on her way to Springfield, Ill., to stay until peace is restored in Mexico.

Speaking of her experience during the battle of Monterey, she said: "Two days before the fall of Torreón we tried to escape by the back door in order to reach the cellar, as the house had become untenable because of shots fired by Rebel sharpshooters. We reached the back door when the sharpshooters opened fire upon us and we were forced to return and lie flat upon the floor while my husband removed some boards and we dropped into the cellar."

By Associated Press.

Mrs. Pankhurst protested to her arrest and asked to see the warrant. She was told that no warrant was necessary. Six policemen boarded the steamer to prevent passengers from interfering with the officers making the arrest. In the meantime the tender, on which were suffragettes, armed with clubs, kept standing off and the armed bodyguard was helpless. Suffragettes were on guard outside of all the prisons in southwest England, where it was thought Mrs. Pankhurst would be taken. They were relayed. At one point several were hurt in an attack.

THIS is the latest and best picture of General Venustiano Carranza, the leader of the Constitutionalists in Mexico. Carranza, as is well known, fought Huerta from the start of the present revolution following the death of Madero. Carranza set up a government of his own at Hermosillo, and his army swept on to further battles following its capture of Juarez. An effort was made by Dr. William Bayard Hale, unofficially representing President Wilson, to induce Carranza to make arrangements whereby the situation could be cleared, but the conferences at Nogales were unsuccessful. In any solution of the Mexican difficulty it is apparent that Carranza is a vital and important figure.

MANN SAYS WAR WITH MEXICO SURE

Minority Leader Mann's Speech Startles the House.

FEARFUL OF PRESENT POLICY

Says the Hay Bill, Which Provides for a Volunteer Army and Which is Rushed Through the House, is Part of the Government's Plan to Get Itself in Readiness For Hostilities—Essence of His Remarks.

Washington, Dec. 4.—James R. Mann, the Republican leader of the house, declared in the course of debate in the house that war between the United States and Mexico is inevitable and that the president is making arrangements accordingly. The fact that the Democrats allowed this statement to go unchallenged added to its significance.

Mr. Mann's prophecy of war with Mexico came as a surprise and created a deep impression in the house. It added to the importance of a bill called up by Representative Hay of Virginia, chairman of the house committee on military affairs, and later passed, authorizing the president to raise volunteer forces in time of actual or threatened war.

Mr. Mann said solemnly that the Hay bill was part of the plan of the government to get itself in readiness for war with Mexico. Predicting a conflict, Mr. Mann said: "I should greatly regret such a war. I do not see any escape from chaos and anarchy in Mexico under the plan which we are now pursuing. Of course, if that runs very long, it means war."

Provisions of Hay Bill.

The Hay bill, which provides for a voluntary army to be raised in the discretion of the president, now goes to the senate. It was said that this body will take immediate action on the measure. Color is given the statement of Mr. Mann that the administration is preparing for trouble by the haste that marked the passage of the Hay bill.

Further evidence in support of Mr. Mann's belief that the administration is preparing for trouble was found in an announcement made by Democratic leaders that early next week the house will pass the naval military bill. This bill proposes to enlarge and render the naval militia more efficient.

Mr. Mann told of the situation that obtained in congress just before the war with Spain, and suggested that the appearance of the Hay bill on the day following President Wilson's public discussion of the Mexican situation in his message was significant. "I have no complaint to make," he continued, "of the attitude which the president has taken in his dealings with Mexico. I confess I can not see an end to the road which it is now traversing. The president told us that the Huerta government in Mexico would soon fall. Very likely, I think that any government in Mexico which does not receive the moral support of our government will not last a great length of time, and I doubt whether any government in Mexico constituted by the so-called Constitutionalists or the other revolutionists will last with the support of our government."

VILLA'S BOAST

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 4.—That he would be in the city of Villa left James R. Mann, accompanied by a rebel cavalry, followed by 500 trained during the war. He was calm and not a bit boastful. He aided his men to load their horses and war munitions.

Mexico City, Dec. 4.—General Huerta has declined the good offices of Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, who, it is learned upon unquestionable authority, presented upon behalf of the powers represented at the Hague tribunal a proposal for Huerta's elimination from the government and the pacification of Mexico. It is learned that Huerta had decided to accept the queen's proposal, but was dissuaded by Minister Losanos.

MASKED BANDIT MURDERS BANKER

Plum Coulee, Manitoba, Dec. 4.—A lone masked bandit held up the Bank of Montreal branch here, stole $10,000 in currency, shot and killed the bank manager, H. M. Arnold, and escaped in a stolen automobile.

Mounted police and posse of citizens followed the automobile trail to the hills, not a great distance from this town, and are believed to have surrounded the robber on the wooded bluffs.

The masked man first appeared at a garage, where at the point of a revolver he forced the garage proprietor to supply him with a powerful automobile. The bandit drove the machine to the rear door of the bank.

Arnold was alone, other employees of the bank not having returned from luncheon. The bank manager submitted while the robber took several packages of money, but attempted to follow as the latter entered the automobile. Then the bandit turned and shot Arnold. School children, who witnessed the robber's escape, gave the alarm.

OHIO HIS PATTERN

Washington, Dec. 4.—Governor-elect Walsh of Massachusetts expects to model his legislative program after that of the Cox administration in Ohio. Governor Cox was informed of this by Secretary Bryan at an extended conference which he held with Mr. Bryan. The latter told the governor that Mr. Walsh had been elected on a reform platform and that he now wished to make an appointment to visit Governor Cox at Columbus to study Ohio reform legislation at first hand and prepare for his own fight in Massachusetts. Governor Cox sent word to Mr. Walsh that he would be glad to see him and to assist him in every way in working out a legislative and administrative program.

The committee members heard their stand, follows: Democrats, 22; Republicans, 4; National Progressives, 22; against, Republicans, 4.

TO PLACE BLAME

Boston, Dec. 4.—Rigid investigation, with heavy punishment for any person or persons, public or private, who may be to blame, is the order growing out of the Arcadia hotel fire, in which 28 men lost their lives and 45 were injured. The Suffolk county grand jury visited the ruins, and will return a presentment or indictments.

The evidence so far shows that the five-story brick building had been remodeled, the walls on the fourth floor having been removed and flimsy wooden partitions substituted. These cut the floor into small rooms, and as the woodwork did not reach the ceiling, there was a strong draught to carry the flames in every direction.

VICTIM OF POLICE AND CLAIRVOYANTS

New York, Dec. 4.—Mrs. Janet L. Burnett, who lost $212,000 to the clairvoyant gang about two years ago, has been identified as the widow of former Congressman Rogers L. Burnett, who used to represent the Stroudsburg, Pa., district. Mrs. Burnett has been in close conference with the district attorney's office all week, and it is probable that her testimony, backed up by the testimony of "Mickey" Shea, confessed go-between, who represented the clairvoyants in buying police protection, will cause the indictment soon of a high police official.

THE ELUSIVE DIME.

Maybe you have noticed the scarcity of dimes. Statisticians have discovered that, altogether more dimes are being turned out of the mints than ever before, there are fewer than ever before in circulation.

It is said that there is now so great a demand for dimes and such a scarcity of them that the coinrolling concerns, which make a business of putting up coins in packages, are saving them up with a view of getting a premium on them.

A famine in dimes would be a serious affair. Even now there are only three dimes per capita in circulation. The modest little coin performs many of our most vital functions. It is with the dime that the fastidious person gets his "shine" and the hard-luck one his meal. The dime buys a rose with which a man summons the flush of happiness to his wife's cheeks and it buys a drink with which he drives hope from the heart and peace from his home. The dime is to the child what the dollar is to the parent—the unit of his calculations and the goal of his desires. It sometimes seems as if a boy would rather have a dime than a quarter.

This brings us to the "dime banks," which are the real cause, perhaps, of the famine. The penny-in-the-slot machines are held responsible for the scarcity of pennies; street cars and automatic music and picture machines accumulate the nickles; but there is no particular contrivance in general use that gathers dimes and holds them except the "dime bank."

An official in Washington suggests that the country is so prosperous that people keep dimes, in their pockets to hear them jingle. But other coins jingle quite as well. Besides, the trouble is that the dimes are not in the people's pockets, but in mysterious hiding. No doubt the "dime banks" hold most of them. And if the famine is the measure of saving, we can cheerfully grin and get along with the other coins.—Athens Messenger.

MANN SAYS WAR WITH MEXICO SURE

Minority Leader Mann's Speech Startles the House.

FEARFUL OF PRESENT POLICY

Says the Hay Bill, Which Provides for a Volunteer Army and Which is Rushed Through the House, is Part of the Government's Plan to Get Itself in Readiness for Hostilities—Essence of His Remarks.

Washington, Dec. 4.—James R. Mann, the Republican leader of the house, declared in the course of debate in the house that war between the United States and Mexico is inevitable and that the president is making arrangements accordingly. The fact that the Democrats allowed this statement to go unchallenged added to its significance.

Mr. Mann's prophecy of war with Mexico came as a surprise and created a deep impression in the house. It added to the importance of a bill called up by Representative Hay of Virginia, chairman of the house committee on military affairs, and later passed, authorizing the president to raise volunteer forces in time of actual or threatened war.

Mr. Mann said solemnly that the Hay bill was part of the plan of the government to get itself in readiness for war with Mexico. Predicting a conflict, Mr. Mann said: "I should greatly regret such a war. I do not see any escape from chaos and anarchy in Mexico under the plan which we are now pursuing. Of course, if that runs very long, it means war."

Provisions of Hay Bill.

The Hay bill, which provides for a voluntary army to be raised in the discretion of the president, now goes to the senate. It was said that this body will take immediate action on the measure. Color is given to the statement of Mr. Mann that the administration is preparing for trouble by the haste that marked the passage of the Hay bill.

Further evidence in support of Mr. Mann's belief that the administration is preparing for trouble was found in an announcement made by Democratic leaders that early next week the house will pass the naval military bill. This bill proposes to enlarge and render the naval militia more efficient.

Mr. Mann told of the situation that obtained in congress just before the war with Spain, and suggested that the appearance of the Hay bill on the day following President Wilson's public discussion of the Mexican situation in his message was significant. "I have no complaint to make," he continued, "of the attitude which the president has taken in his dealings with Mexico. I confess I can not see an end to the road which it is now traversing. The president told us that the Huerta government in Mexico would soon fall. Very likely. I think that any government in Mexico which does not receive the moral support of our government will not last a great length of time, and I doubt whether any government in Mexico constituted by the so-called Constitutionalists or the other revolutionists will last with the support of our government."

TO PLACE BLAME

Boston, Dec. 4.—Rigid investigation, with heavy punishment for any person or persons, public or private, who may be to blame, is the order growing out of the Arcadia hotel fire, in which 28 men lost their lives and 45 were injured. The Suffolk county grand jury visited the ruins, and will return a presentment or indictments.

The evidence so far shows that the five-story brick building had been remodeled, the walls on the fourth floor having been removed and flimsy wooden partitions substituted. These cut the floor into small rooms, and as the woodwork did not reach the ceiling, there was a strong draught to carry the flames in every direction.

VICTIM OF POLICE AND CLAIRVOYANTS

New York, Dec. 4.—Mrs. Janet L. Burnett, who lost $212,000 to the clairvoyant gang about two years ago, has been identified as the widow of former Congressman Rogers L. Burnett, who used to represent the Stroudsburg, Pa., district. Mrs. Burnett has been in close conference with the district attorney's office all week, and it is probable that her testimony, backed up by the testimony of "Mickey" Shea, confessed go-between, who represented the clairvoyants in buying police protection, will cause the indictment soon of a high police official.

Closing Cincinnati Saloons

For the first time in more than half a century Cincinnati was "dry" last Sunday.

The inspectors operating under the State Board and those operating under the Hamilton County Board as well as representatives of the Anti-Saloon league, searched tirelessly and actively all day for violators of the Sunday closing laws, and the sum total of arrests was one.

In all the big Queen City only one man is accused of being reckless enough to open his saloon on Sunday and thus take a chance on running counter the provisions of the present rigid license law.

The condition in Cincinnati Sunday is the highest testimonial to the efficiency of the State Liquor License Law, that could be furnished.

Laws have come and laws have gone, laws have been on the statutes of Ohio for years forbidding the sale of liquor on Sunday but Cincinnati has gone placidly along in the old way, disregarding the Sunday closing laws.

Cincinnati saloon keepers made little or no pretense of abiding by those laws.

If a saloon owner happened to have a "side door" in the front of his place of business he closed the "front doors" and all day Sunday the patrons poured in and out of the smaller door. If there was no "side door" available, the front door was used for ingress and egress just as on week days.

Cincinnati was regarded as the supreme test for the new law. All eyes were turned on the Queen City last Sunday. Would this law be effective to close up the saloons of Cincinnati on Sunday, was the state wide question.

Conditions furnished the answer.

It was. When Governor Cox, in his emphatic way, let it be known that there was to be no parleying and no evasion; that the law was to be enforced, the saloon keepers knew for the first time that they must obey the law, and they did so.

The result in Cincinnati is striking proof, too, of the wisdom of vesting the authority to enforce the liquor license law in the state officials.

The antagonistic attitude of Mayor Hunt is proof of what would have been the result if local officials had been allowed to control. It was only at the cost of an open break with Mayor Hunt that Governor Cox was able to break up the old law-defying regime in Cincinnati.

For half a century the believers in law enforcement have not been even considered seriously when advocating the Sunday closing of saloons in Cincinnati.

Sunday last saw a wonderful change for good in Cincinnati and praise to the new law which made these better conditions possible and to the Governor who saw to it that the provisions of the law were enforced, all fair minded people must give credit.

For years and years it has been generally conceded that laws regulating the traffic in intoxicating liquors could be enforced elsewhere in the state, but not in Cincinnati.

Governor Cox, with the aid of the new license law, has demonstrated that Cincinnati saloon keepers can be made to close up on Sunday.

It has taken half a century to frame a law and find a man to enforce it, a combination effective to compel the saloon-keeper of Cincinnati to close on Sunday.

Now that it has been demonstrated that it is not impossible, law enforcement will be easier in Cincinnati.

Not long ago there was a small city in Ohio in which people believed it was impossible to stop "bootlegging" but the people of that little city found a mayor once who proved that it could be done.

Since that mayor went out of office it has been both easier and more difficult to his successors, according to their desires.

But it was proven that it could be done if an honest attempt was made.

Much of the Blindness In the World Can and Should Be Ended Forever

By HELEN KELLER, Remarkable Blind and Deaf Mute

I WAS blind; now I see. I was deaf; now I hear. I was dumb; now I speak. The hands of others wrought this miracle in me.

I am glad to think of what the blind can do, because their brave accomplishments prove, absolutely prove, what people with five senses can do.

They show what good servants the brain and the senses can be when they WORK TOGETHER. You who see raise your eyes and behold the sun and moon, the earth, the ocean and the faces of men.

We who are blind stretch out our hands and know all the softness of growing things, all the sweet ways of children, all the endearments of human affection. But the senses alone are not enough. It is only when they are united with IMAGINATION AND THOUGHT and feeling that they acquire their full value.

THOSE WHO ARE BLIND KNOW HOW TO BE BLIND. THEY MUST ALSO LEARN HOW TO WORK TOGETHER WITH THE SEEING SO THAT EVERY BLIND CHILD MAY BE TAUGHT, EVERY BLIND MAN AND WOMAN HELPED. WE CAN. WE MUST UNITE SO THAT MUCH OF THE BLINDNESS IN THE WORLD SHALL BE ENDED FOREVER.

Poetry For Today

THE SPICE OF A LIFE.

I do not envy him who ne'er
Has borne the bruises of defeat,
Whose pathways have been smooth
and fair,
Whom Chance has never learned to
cheat;
For he has never claimed the sweet
Reward that comes to those who dare
To be triumphant, to possess
The splendid solace of success
Won after failure and despair.

I do not envy lovers who
Have never found their love betrayed,
Who love but once and journey
through
Life by one little passion swayed;
For they have never gladly laid
Aside the false love for the true,
And they have missed the splendid thrill
Who, having loved in vain, can still,
Forget the ache and love anew.

I do not envy him whose days
Have all been peaceful days and bright,
Who has not looked with envious
gaze
On luckier men who scorned his plight;
For he has never won the right
To proudly listen to the praise
Which is reserved for those who
gain
Their honors after bitter pain
And many storms and long delays.

One specimen weighed 29 ounces and equaled in flavor to fruit grown in Florida. Where soil conditions are adopted to it, the northern states has a possible new industry ahead.

She did not want him to leave her alone.

Patrolman Dies of Wounds. Cleveland, O., Dec. 4.—Patrolman Albert Miller, who received a fractured skull in a fight with a gang of rowdies, is dead. He attempted to stop a fight at a party near his home. Five young men, under arrest, are charged with the murder.

Dentists to Meet in Columbus. Toledo, O., Dec. 4.—Columbus was chosen as the meeting place of the Ohio State Dental society convention next year by the board of directors. The convention resolved itself into 18 clinics.

Lavell in Cleveland? Cleveland, O., Dec. 4.—Despite the fact that several people in East Cleveland think they saw Cecil Lavell, missing Ohio State university professor, there is no real clew to his whereabouts. A man who resembled him called at the home of Mrs. C. H. Fentress, in East Cleveland, begging for shelter. Mrs. Fentress says he was well dressed and appeared dazed.

Closing Cincinnati Saloons

For the first time in more than half a century Cincinnati was "dry" last Sunday.

The inspectors operating under the State Board and those operating under the Hamilton County Board as well as representatives of the Anti-Saloon league, searched tirelessly and actively all day for violators of the Sunday closing laws, and the sum total of arrests was one.

In all the big Queen City only one man is accused of being reckless enough to open his saloon on Sunday and thus take a chance on running counter the provisions of the present rigid license law.

The condition in Cincinnati Sunday is the highest testimonial to the efficiency of the State Liquor License Law, that could be furnished.

Laws have come and laws have gone, laws have been on the statutes of Ohio for years forbidding the sale of liquor on Sunday but Cincinnati has gone placidly along in the old way, disregarding the Sunday closing laws.

Cincinnati saloon keepers made little or no pretense of abiding by those laws.

If a saloon owner happened to have a "side door" in the front of his place of business he closed the "front doors" and all day Sunday the patrons poured in and out of the smaller door. If there was no "side door" available, the front door was used for ingress and egress just as on week days.

Cincinnati was regarded as the supreme test for the new law. All eyes were turned on the Queen City last Sunday. Would this law be effective to close up the saloons of Cincinnati on Sunday, was the state wide question.

Conditions furnished the answer.

It was.

When Governor Cox, in his emphatic way, let it be known that there was to be no parleying and no evasion; that the law was to be enforced, the saloon keepers knew for the first time that they must obey the law, and they did so.

The result in Cincinnati is striking proof, too, of the wisdom of vesting the authority to enforce the liquor license law in the state officials.

The antagonistic attitude of Mayor Hunt is proof of what would have been the result if local officials had been allowed to control. It was only at the cost of an open break with Mayor Hunt that Governor Cox was able to break up the old law-defying regime in Cincinnati.

For half a century the believers in law enforcement have not been even considered seriously when advocating the Sunday closing of saloons in Cincinnati.

Sunday last saw a wonderful change for good in Cincinnati and praise to the new law which made these better conditions possible and to the Governor who saw to it that the provisions of the law were enforced, all fair minded people must give credit.

For years and years it has been generally conceded that laws regulating the traffic in intoxicating liquors could be enforced elsewhere in the state, but not in Cincinnati.

Governor Cox, with the aid of the new license law, has demonstrated that Cincinnati saloon keepers can be made to close up on Sunday.

It has taken half a century to frame a law and find a man to enforce it, a combination effective to compel the saloon-keeper of Cincinnati to close on Sunday.

Now that it has been demonstrated that it is not impossible, law enforcement will be easier in Cincinnati.

Not long ago there was a small city in Ohio in which people believed it was impossible to stop "bootlegging" but the people of that little city found a mayor once who proved that it could be done.

Since that mayor went out of office it has been both easier and more difficult to his successors, according to their desires. But it was proven that it could be done if an honest attempt was made.

Much of the Blindness In the World Can and Should Be Ended Forever

By HELEN KELLER, Remarkable Blind and Deaf Mute

I WAS blind; now I see. I was deaf; now I hear. I was dumb; now I speak. The hands of others wrought this miracle in me.

I am glad to think of what the blind can do, because their brave accomplishments prove, absolutely prove, what people with five senses can do.

They show what good servants the brain and the senses can be when they WORK TOGETHER. You who see raise your eyes and behold the sun and moon, the earth, the ocean and the faces of men.

We who are blind stretch out our hands and know all the softness of growing things, all the sweet ways of children, all the endearments of human affection. But the senses alone are not enough. It is only when they are united with IMAGINATION AND THOUGHT and feeling that they acquire their full value.

THOSE WHO ARE BLIND KNOW HOW TO BE BLIND. THEY MUST ALSO LEARN HOW TO WORK TOGETHER WITH THE SEEING SO THAT EVERY BLIND CHILD MAY BE TAUGHT, EVERY BLIND MAN AND WOMAN HELPED. WE CAN. WE MUST UNITE SO THAT MUCH OF THE BLINDNESS IN THE WORLD SHALL BE ENDED FOREVER.

Poetry For Today

THE SPICE OF A LIFE.

I do not envy him who ne'er
Has borne the bruises of defeat,
Whose pathways have been smooth
and fair,
Whom Chance has never learned to
cheat;
For he has never claimed the sweet
Reward that comes to those who dare
To be triumphant, to possess
The splendid solace of success
Won after failure and despair.

I do not envy lovers who
Have never found their love betrayed,
Who love but once and journey
through
Life by one little passion swayed;
For they have never gladly laid
Aside the false love for the true,
And they have missed the splendid
thrill
Who, having loved in vain, can still,
Forget the ache and love anew.

I do not envy him whose days
Have all been peaceful days and
bright,
Who has not looked with envious
gaze
On luckier men who scorned his
plight;
For he has never won the right
To proudly listen to the praise
Which is reserved for those who
gain
Their honors after bitter pain
And many storms and long delays.
—Leslie's Weekly.

Richard Walsh, a Texan, is to be ranch boss on a large ranch. He has managed extensive ranches before, one of them the Adair track in the Panhandle, consisting of more than 100,000 acres. But the ranch he will now take charge of will consist of 450,000 square miles. He will have immediate supervision of 90,000,000 acres. This farm is in Rhodesia, S. 58 of the prominent younger Chinese of Honolulu are on the role of the new company of National Guards of Hawaii. The entire enlistment is made up of Chinese-Americans. John Lo, one of the best known of the younger Chinese business men of the islands took charge of the application list of those who wished to join the Guards and, who will, it is said, have the distinction of being the first Chinese to do military service under the stars and stripes as members of an organization supported by the federal government.

The Canadian government agricultural station, near Ottawa, reports that it has succeeded in producing grape fruit equal to that raised in Florida. Florida and California was thought to have the grape fruit product cornered and that it was impossible to raise it north. The tree at the agricultural station is said to have been under cultivation ten years. It produced fruit for the first time last summer. One specimen weighed 29 ounces and equaled in flavor to fruit grown in Florida. Where soil conditions are adopted to it, the northern states has a possible new industry ahead.

MIDNIGHT INTRUDERS TAKE WOMAN'S HAIR

Toledo, O., Dec. 4.—Attacked in her bed by two masked men at midnight, Mrs. Fred Cahoon of Point Place, near this city, was shorn of her luxuriant hair and left gagged, although otherwise unharmed. Mrs. Cahoon was asleep when the men entered the house and demanded money. She denied having any, whereupon the bandits thrust a gag into her mouth and searched the room without success. "Well, we can get a ten-spot for this," said one of them, as he grasped Mrs. Cahoon's hair in his hand. Without more words he clipped the long braids with shears and the two departed. Mrs. Cahoon had long and beautiful hair.

Two conditions were imposed upon Zelaya. He must not mix in Central American politics and must leave the United States for Spain within a reasonable time.

HITS FREE WHEAT

Washington, Dec. 4. — Hopes that the cost of living might be reduced by free importations of wheat, flour and other wheat products from the great South American grain producer, the Argentine Republic, went glimmering when Assistant Secretary Hamlin sent notice to collectors of customs that the retaliatory duty on wheat and its products must be enforced against Argentina and most of the other nations of the world. Under the new tariff law wheat and its products are to be admitted free from countries which admit such products free from the United States.

PEACE, THE CHRISTMAS REMEDY FOR THE WORLD'S ILLS

The Christmas message is "Peace on earth to men of good will." The coming of the Christ was a prophecy of the time when war should be no more, when love and sympathy and service should rule the world. For ages the nations have been moving up slowly into the light of the Divine idea. Today we cannot fail to see many signs of the better day. It is the age of arbitration. As between man and man, class and class, nation and nation, the spirit of conciliation and good will is steadily growing. The time is unmistakably approaching when instead of bitter rivalry and warlike strife all differences will be adjusted in the court of enlightened conscience and reason. Let us rejoice that the Christmas spirit is surely and steadily overspreading the earth.

In accordance with these well-known facts, Rev. Frederick E. Ross will deliver a series of three short evening sermons at Grace Methodist Episcopal church as follows:

Dec. 14. "Peace Between Man and Man, the Cure for Our Industrial Evils."

Dec. 21. "Peace Between the Nations, the Cure for International Strife."

Dec. 28. "Peace Between Man and God, the Cure for the Soul's Ills."

At these services the music will be of a high order. On Dec. 21 the choir will render a special Christmas program morning and evening. The public is most cordially invited to these and all other services of Grace Church.

STREET CAR SYSTEM PLANS ARE FORMING

Arrangements have been made for the preliminary survey and estimates of the cost of constructing the new street railway system which Mr. Chas. Allen and associates have under contemplation for this city.

Mr. Allen stated Thursday that he had received favorable commendation upon all sides favoring the project, and that virtually every one is anxious for the enterprise to be launched, believing that not only will it be a splendid movement for the city, but would also be instrumental in pulling traction lines to this city.

MRS. C. C. BATEMAN BURIED TODAY

A simple and beautiful funeral service was conducted by Rev. Wm. Boynton Gage over all that was mortal of Mrs. C. C. Bateman, at the home of her sisters, the Misses Bell, on North street, Thursday afternoon at one o'clock.

The home was crowded with the friends of Mrs. Bateman's long residence in Washington.

There was no music, the minister reading the hymn, "Lead Kindly Light," and making comforting and appreciative remarks.

A long line of carriages bore the family and friends to the Washington cemetery, where interment was made in the family lot.

Acting as pall-bearers were Mr. John Schum, Middletown; Colonel B. H. Millikan, Capt. Geo. C. Jenkins, Messrs. W. W. Millikan, John Culhan and Frank Kennedy.

The floral remembrances were very beautiful and in great number.

The remains of Mrs. Bateman, which arrived from Middletown via C. H. & D. Wednesday evening, were accompanied by her son, Mr. Frank Bateman, and family, daughter, Mrs. Horace Miller and husband, the sisters, Mrs. John E. Green, Misses Lizzie and Anna Bell, and Mr. John Schumm, of Middletown.

SECTION EMPLOYEES QUIT THEIR LABOR

Two crews of section employees of the local division of the B. & O. stopped work Wednesday, alleged to be the result of an order issued the previous day, cutting the hours of the men from 10 to 9 per day, and not allowing the same pay for the nine hour day as for the 10 hours of labor.

Some eight or ten men are included in the "strike" and whether they will be employed at the same rate per day as heretofore, or new men employed to take their place permanently, remains to be seen.

MAMMOTH SHIPMENT OF LARGE HOGS.

Mr. Harry Silcott, south of town, shipped to Pittsburg Wednesday five wagon loads of hogs that weighed on an average of 200 to 225 lbs.

The mammoth shipment was one of the largest ever made in the county by one farmer.

TWO MISHAPS DELAY THE GRASSHOPPER

Two bad mishaps one day—not altogether uncommon on the Grasshopper—occurred Wednesday, and the train was not able to continue its journey until the wreck train from Springfield had worked most of the night in an effort to replace cars and repair track where the Grasshopper had left the rails and tore up the track for some distance.

The first wreck occurred near Pearsons, when the train broke in two and a car of corn left the rails. Two cars of live stock remained back of the wreck, so the engine and a car or two started onward to Jeffersonville, but when near Allentown the second mishap occurred, the engine going dead and would not budge.

The wreck train came down from Springfield and after working all night cleared up the wreck and started the "hopper" to hopping once more, after some 20 hours delay.

In addition to the grasshopper trouble, the night train on the D. T. & I. did not arrive until after midnight.

You can find Aprons of all description at Grace church Friday at 1:30 p. m.

STILL IN DANGER BUT IS IMPROVING

Still suffering intensely and not yet out of danger, Roy Brown, the young farm hand who had his back broken when he was crushed between a load of corn and a beam in a shed, remains at the Fayette hospital, where everything is being done to save his life and prevent him from being a permanent cripple.

His improvement is taken as a good indication that he will eventually recover from the terrible injuries sustained.

DISTINCTIVE FEATURE EAST END REVIVAL

A distinctive feature of the revival now in progress at East End Chapel is the holding of all-day prayer meetings today.

PEACE, THE CHRISTMAS REMEDY FOR THE WORLD'S ILLS

The Christmas message is "Peace on earth to men of good will." The coming of the Christ was a prophecy of the time when war should be no more, when love and sympathy and service should rule the world. For ages the nations have been moving up slowly into the light of the Divine idea. Today we cannot fail to see many signs of the better day. It is the age of arbitration. As between man and man, class and class, nation and nation, the spirit of conciliation and good will is steadily growing. The time is unmistakably approaching when instead of bitter rivalry and warlike strife all differences will be adjusted in the court of enlightened conscience and reason. Let us rejoice that the Christmas spirit is surely and steadily overspreading the earth.

In accordance with these well-known facts, Rev. Frederick E. Ross will deliver a series of three short evening sermons at Grace Methodist Episcopal church as follows:

Dec. 14. "Peace Between Man and Man, the Cure for Our Industrial Evils."

Dec. 21. "Peace Between the Nations, the Cure for International Strife."

Dec. 28. "Peace Between Man and God, the Cure for the Soul's Ills."

At these services the music will be of a high order. On Dec. 21 the choir will render a special Christmas program morning and evening. The public is most cordially invited to these and all other services of Grace Church.

STREET CAR SYSTEM PLANS ARE FORMING

Arrangements have been made for the preliminary survey and estimates of the cost of constructing the new street railway system which Mr. Chas. Allen and associates have under contemplation for this city.

Mr. Allen stated Thursday that he had received favorable commendation upon all sides favoring the project, and that virtually every one is anxious for the enterprise to be launched, believing that not only will it be a splendid movement for the city, but would also be instrumental in pulling traction lines to this city.

MRS. C. C. BATEMAN BURIED TODAY

A simple and beautiful funeral service was conducted by Rev. Wm. Boynton Gage over all that was mortal of Mrs. C. C. Bateman, at the home of her sisters, the Misses Bell, on North street, Thursday afternoon at one o'clock.

The home was crowded with the friends of Mrs. Bateman's long residence in Washington.

There was no music, the minister reading the hymn, "Lead Kindly Light," and making comforting and appreciative remarks.

A long line of carriages bore the family and friends to the Washington cemetery, where interment was made in the family lot.

Acting as pall-bearers were Mr. John Schum, Middletown; Colonel B. H. Millikan, Capt. Geo. C. Jenkins, Messrs. W. W. Millikan, John Culhan and Frank Kennedy.

The floral remembrances were very beautiful and in great number.

The remains of Mrs. Bateman, which arrived from Middletown via C. H. & D. Wednesday evening, were accompanied by her son, Mr. Frank Bateman, and family, daughter, Mrs. Horace Miller and husband, the sisters, Mrs. John E. Green, Misses Lizzie and Anna Bell, and Mr. John Schumm, of Middletown.

The total cost of the Devalon road improvement, under the state aid plan, has been certified to the County Auditor by the State Highway Department for collection, and the amount is $21,480.86, which is divided up between the state, county, townships and property owners.

SECTION EMPLOYEES QUIT THEIR LABOR

Two crews of section employees of the local division of the B. & O. stopped work Wednesday, alleged to be the result of an order issued the previous day, cutting the hours of the men from 10 to 9 per day, and not allowing the same pay for the nine hour day as for the 10 hours of labor.

Some eight or ten men are included in the "strike" and whether they will be employed at the same rate per day as heretofore, or new men employed to take their place permanently, remains to be seen.

MAMMOTH SHIPMENT OF LARGE HOGS.

Mr. Harry Silcott, south of town, shipped to Pittsburg Wednesday five wagon loads of hogs that weighed on an average of 200 to 225 lbs.

The mammoth shipment was one of the largest ever made in the county by one farmer.

TWO MISHAPS DELAY THE GRASSHOPPER

Two bad mishaps one day—not altogether uncommon on the Grasshopper—occurred Wednesday, and the train was not able to continue its journey until the wreck train from Springfield had worked most of the night in an effort to replace cars and repair track where the Grasshopper had left the rails and tore up the track for some distance.

The first wreck occurred near Pearsons, when the train broke in two and a car of corn left the rails. Two cars of live stock remained back of the wreck, so the engine and a car or two started onward to Jeffersonville, but when near Allentown the second mishap occurred, the engine going dead and would not budge.

The wreck train came down from Springfield and after working all night cleared up the wreck and started the "hopper" to hopping once more, after some 20 hours delay.

In addition to the grasshopper trouble, the night train on the D. T. & I. did not arrive until after midnight.

You can find Aprons of all description at Grace church Friday at 1:30 p. m.

STILL IN DANGER BUT IS IMPROVING

Still suffering intensely and not yet out of danger, Roy Brown, the young farm hand who had his back broken when he was crushed between a load of corn and a beam in a shed, remains at the Fayette hospital, where everything is being done to save his life and prevent him from being a permanent cripple.

His improvement is taken as a good indication that he will eventually recover from the terrible injuries sustained.

DISTINCTIVE FEATURE EAST END REVIVAL

A distinctive feature of the revival now in progress at East End Chapel is the holding of all-day prayer meetings today.

The Chapel constituency is organized into two bands, which are going from house to house in the East End neighborhood and holding fifteen minute prayer meetings. Thirty prayer meetings were held.

Last night the mission church was again well filled and the revival spirit seemed wakening.

There were twenty requests for prayer and fifteen came forward.

In Social Circles

MISS FLORENCE USTICK, SOCIETY EDITOR

Mrs. Gerrie Spragg filled the role of hostess to the Thursday afternoon Bridge club today. Miss Lucile Weldon, of Circleville, was an out-of-town guest.

Mrs. O. T. Grafton gave hospitable entertainment to the Thursday Afternoon Kensington club today.

The first ladies' social session of the Washington lodge of Elks, held Wednesday night in the new lodge home, ushered in most auspiciously what promises to be a gay social season in Elkdom.

The handsome club rooms, each room of the suite elegantly furnished and brilliantly enfeited, drew forth delighted approval from the guests and provides quarters for entertaining, which are admirably adapted to an order eminently social.

The evening was throughout a brilliant social success, the committee, Messrs. Burgett and Spragg, sparing no effort for the opening.

There was a large attendance, fifteen tables of players engaging in a "500" game, which occupied the first two hours of the evening. Mrs. D. H. C. Bowen won the favor.

Cateress Roberts served an excellent supper in the big ball room, where long tables were arranged to form a maltese cross. A beautiful basket of white chrysanthemums and carnations graced the center, smilax extending in garlands over the damask.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing, for which Messrs. Whelpley, Kneisley and Miller furnished fine music.

A large number of women formed the "Missionary Kensington" of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church, held Wednesday afternoon in the church under the direction of the entertaining committee, an affair of much social pleasure.

An informal program was given, to which Mrs. Lulu Robinson contributed an opening piano solo. Misses Ruth Reid and Edith Worthington a beautiful piano duet, and Miss Doris Willis a taking recitation.

Mrs. H. T. Tuttle poured tea at a table, prettily decorated with a basket of bitter-sweet and chrysanthemums.

The entertaining committee included Mesdames Hadley, Tuttle, Albert McCoy and C. Thoroman.

Mrs. Jesse Blackmore of near Good Hope, delightfully entertained six little boys and girls and their mothers, Wednesday, in honor of the fifth birthday of her handsome little son, Paul Franklin.

good time. They wrote letters to Santa Claus, which Mrs. Blackmore promised to mail in good time, and played games, until they were invited to the dining room for a delicious two course lunch. The table was exceedingly pretty, with yellow chrysanthemums and a large birthday cake.

After the children were served and were engaged in out door play, the mothers also enjoyed a two course lunch.

Miss Anne Lawrence entertained a coterie of young girls at a jolly little "Tango tea", quite a pleasurable innovation in entertaining.

The tea table was artistically decorated with greenery and the place-cards bore painted tea cups, while the favors were tea cups, which told to each guest her fortune.

MORE PAVED HIGHWAYS WANTED IN THIS COUNTY

Property Owners on Jeffersonville Pike Want Four Miles of Brick-Paved Road, and File Petition With County Commissioners for Same—More Similar Petitions Expected Under the New Good Roads Law.

Farmers all over the county are awakening to the benefits to be derived from good roads, and the latest petition filed for improved roads came into the Auditor's office Wednesday afternoon, when more than a half score of property owners on the Jeffersonville pike filed a petition to be presented to the County Commissioners, asking that some four miles of the Jeffersonville pike be paved with brick, 14 feet wide, and extending from the northern end of the bridge over Paint creek near the Hoppes farm, to a point opposite the Mary French farm.

The plan for improvement is known as the "state aid" plan, 50 per cent of the improvement to be paid from the amount paid by the state; 25 per cent by the county; 15 per cent by the township and 10 per cent by the property owners along the improved highway.

A petition similar to the above was filed a few months ago, asking for the improvement by bricking, of about one mile of the Bloomingburg and Sedalia pike, and it is possible that the first improvement petitioned for will be first to be improved.

In the petition filed Wednesday, for the Jeffersonville pike improvement, more than 51 per cent of the foot frontage is said to be represented and the following persons have attached their names to the petition: Jesse Welton, Willis Robinson, Chas. McCoy, David A. Breakfield, Perl Baughn, Mrs. R. B. Parrett, Bertha S. Blessing, Mrs. L. H. Dill, Henry Kuny, Mary C. Kessler, C. C. Parrett, T. A. Jenkins and Edgar Coll.

Similar petitions will probably be filed by other property owners throughout the county, as under the new law the amount of money paid into the state for good roads is about $18,000, and the amount received will be between $30,000 and $40,000 per year, to be used in the construction of good roads.

BOYS AND GIRLS TAKE CAPITAL

Washington, Dec. 4.—Ohio boys and girls who had taken prizes for excellence in agricultural pursuits and home economics were "received" by Secretary of Agriculture Houston this morning. There were nearly 2,000 in the party, including a band made up of boys of Hicksville, O., and parents and friends of the Buckeye lads and lassies. President Wilson had intended to receive the visitors at the White House this afternoon, but canceled the engagement on account of ill health.

Late yesterday the boys and girls visited Mount Vernon, where Governor Cox of Ohio delivered an address. At Continental hall, last night, the visitors were addressed by Secretary of State Bryan.

The Ohio delegation in congress has planned a mass meeting for this evening, at which speeches will be made. Governor Cox returned to Ohio. The corn boys will leave Washington tonight for Philadelphia, the next stop on their trip.

PHYSICIAN JAILED

Toledo, O., Dec. 4.—Sentence of six months in the county jail and a fine of $150 was imposed by Probate Judge O'Donnell upon Dr. J. W. Lilly, who entered a plea of guilty to the charge of having given illegal prescriptions for morphine to Ralph H. Oyler, a state pure food department drug inspector.

DENY FIXING PRICES

New York, Dec. 4.—Judge Elber H. Gary attended the hearing of the government's anti-trust suit against the United States Steel corporation for the first time since the defense began to put in evidence. He came to hear the testimony of Alexis W. Thompson, president of the International Steel company, a business rival of the steel corporation. Thompson made a good witness for the defense. He said he never had heard a specific price mentioned at the Gary dinners and that competition was at any time restrained by agreement on prices. "I suppose at times we have made the same prices," he said, "but it was accidental and not according to agreement."

BAINBRIDGE WILL NOT HOLD ELECTION

Since the license law went into effect and the trouble in Bainbridge over licensing the one saloon allowed in that town, has been holding the center of the stage, rumors have been afloat that a local option election would be called to put the town dry. However, it is now claimed that the rumors have not materialized, and that no election will be held for the present, at least.

HUERTA SORE

Mexico City, Dec. 4.—President Huerta has been intensely angered by President Wilson's message to congress regarding Mexico. He is particularly embittered by President Wilson's reference to him as a usurper. General Huerta refused to make any comment on the message for publication.

BOTH SIDES MAKE POINT

Shelbyville, Ind., Dec. 4.—One of the props fell from under the state's case when Harry W. Haskett failed to identify, positively, Dr. William B. Craig as the man he saw coming out of the araway of the Indianapolis apartment house in which Dr. Helene Knabe lived on the night of the latter's death.

Haskett, testifying at the trial of Dr. Craig for the murder of Dr. Knabe, gazed intently at the accused man for a few moments and then said, "He looks like the man." Later, under cross-examination, Haskett was asked: "Are you willing to swear positively that Dr. Craig is the man you saw coming out of the passage-way?" "I am not," was Haskett's reply.

The state scored a victory when the court admitted the testimony of Dr. Otto Wagner, former superintendent of the Indiana Veterinary college, in regard to a conversation he had with Dr. Craig concerning Dr. Knabe on Sept. 29, 1911. Dr. Wagner declared that he had spoken to Dr. Craig and Dr. A. H. Roberts about giving up their lecture hours at the school on that day in order to permit Dr. Knabe to address the students. He said that Dr. Roberts had readily agreed to give way to Dr. Knabe.

"When I put the question to Dr. Craig," said the witness, "he arose from his seat with a show of irritation and said: 'Oh, tell her to go to hell.' I told him that I could not carry any such message as that and he turned away without giving any further answer."

Dr. Wagner testified that Dr. Craig and Dr. Knabe previously had been good friends and that the former frequently had taken the latter home in his automobile.

INCOME TAX ON GRIDDLE

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Charges that the income tax section of the new tariff law constitutes class legislation and is unconstitutional were made in a test suit filed here against the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings bank on behalf of Miss Elsie DeWolfe of New York.

The United States government probably will be asked to aid in defense of the bill, according to Levy Mayer, counsel for the bank, who said he would seek a conference with Attorney General McReynolds to discuss carrying the action to the United States supreme court for a ruling. The declaration, filed by Bourke Cockran of New York and Colin Fyffe of Chicago, for Miss DeWolfe, alleges that the tax violates the fifth amendment to the constitution, in that it deprives her of property without due process of law, and that it violates the fourteenth amendment, in denying her equal protection under the law.

The graduated scale of taxation, the declaration alleges, discriminates unjustly against persons of income under $100,000 a year, "usually gained from industrial and artistic pursuits," in favor of those with incomes of more than $100,000 a year. Miss DeWolfe was an actress. She retired from the stage in 1905 and is at present in Paris.

The suit was brought to compel the bank to pay the interest on 30 bonds of a power company which, the bill states, the bank had declined to pay unless Miss DeWolfe filed a certificate of ownership as provided by the income tax law. Damages of $1,000 are asked in each of five counts.

The plaintiff alleges that the income tax is not uniform and that the law is therefore unconstitutional, because: "It is imposed on only 423,000 in a population of about 90,000,000 and the persons who would pay the tax have not consented to its imposition; and the tax violates the elements of equality in its graduated scale of taxation."

The plaintiff points out that she, being an unmarried woman, is subject not only to a tax of 1 per cent on her whole income in excess of $3,000, but is subject to an additional tax of 1 per cent on that portion exceeding $20,000 and less than $50,000; an additional 1 per cent between $50,000 and $75,000, and an additional 1 per cent between $75,000 and $100,000.

THE FEED THAT MAKES CHEAP BEEF

Herbert Quick, editor of Farm and Fireside, tells the following story in the current issue of his publication apropos of the value of alfalfa:

"Three years ago a stockman, who farms about 1,100 acres of the finest land in Ohio, was much in favor of alfalfa. He is a very progressive farmer, but, like most of us, he was running along in the old corn-wheat-clover fashion. He had two men feeding for him—one an old colored man who had been with him a long time, and the other an agricultural-college man. He also had a few acres of alfalfa. There was a contest on between the old colored man and the expert as to which could put more weight per head per month on their respective herds. The first month's weighing showed the expert in the lead. The next weighing put the colored man so far ahead that the expert wondered how it could be. Both herds had good, running water. Both had plenty of good timothy and clover hay. Both had all the good corn they could manage. Was the old negro a better feeder than the college man?

It seemed so; but the expert, being scientifically educated, began looking for the reason in a scientific way. He found that the only difference was to be found in the fact that the crafty old colored man had been systematically mixing alfalfa-hay with the ration! The protein in the alfalfa had been going into the muscles and bones of the cattle he fed.

"A good stockman needed no further proof as to the value of alfalfa over timothy and clover. Acting on this proof, he began working into alfalfa. He plans to build more silos, and as soon as he can will make his feeding ration one of corn-silage, ear corn and alfalfa-hay. This ration is shown by the tests at Lincoln, Nebraska, to be the feed that will make beef cheaper.

CHILDREN WORK IN MILLS.

10.4 Per Cent of Employees in Cotton Mills Under Sixteen Years Old.

Washington.—Of the 387,771 persons employed in the cotton goods industry in 1909 in the United States, 39,306, or 10.4 per cent, were children under sixteen years of age and half of them girls, according to a final report of the census bureau. Alabama, North and South Carolina employ 19 per cent of children and Massachusetts 5.7 per cent. These children worked on an average of from fifty-four to sixty hours a week.

The 1,324 establishments in the industry produced $628,391,813 worth of goods. The cost of materials totaled $371,009,470, and the total paid in salaries and wages was $147,270,903.

There was an increase of the previous census of 25.5 per cent in the number of plants, and the total capital invested in the industry in 1909 was $822,237,529, an increase of 76 per cent over 1890.

SHOE LEATHER GROWS SCARCE

It is not very comforting for those who have a number of little feet to cover with shoes each month, to be told that the price of shoe leather is apt to go still higher. Everyone knows that certain brands of shoes that used to cost four and five dollars, are now sold at six and seven. It used to be possible to shoe a child for about a dollar and a half. The same shoes now cost two and a half, or more.

The same tendencies which are at work to keep up the price of meat, operate to keep up the price of leather. The animals furnishing beef sole hides were priced at 19 1/2 cents; in July, they were 22 cents; in January 1912, they were 24 cents; in January 1913, the price was 26 cents; in August 1913, it was 27 1/2 cents—an increase of 40 per cent in less than three years. This accounts, in gratulation.

In the matter of the cost of shoes, as in many other things, the new tariff schedule is not likely to furnish much relief judging from statements made by the shoe men. One well posted dealer says we are confronted with the prospect that within a few years men's shoes that now cost the consumer $6 will be sold at $10. Women's shoes that now cost the consumer $4 will be sold at $6 and $7. Better material and workmanship are urged so as to make the buyer more nearly satisfied with his purchase.

Some concrete figures will give some idea of the situation as regards hides. In January, 1911, standard and hides are not raised, consequently the food article and the foot covering are continually costing more as the years go by. Meat may be dispensed with to a degree, but shoes must be worn. A suit of clothes can be made to do extra duty as to time, but when a pair of shoes are worn out they must be renewed.

There is no staple that is so continually in demand as shoes. There is no substitute; cheapness and poor quality defeat themselves, and the sustainer of a family never gets away from the constant demand for regular renewal of the footwear of the household. The prospect, therefore, that prices of shoe leather will go even higher in the near future does not contain cause for satisfaction or cona measure, for the gradual increase in the price of shoes. During the safe period calf-skins increased 25 per cent in price.—Springfield Sun.

INCOME TAX ON GRIDDLE

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Charges that the income tax section of the new tariff law constitutes class legislation and is unconstitutional were made in a test suit filed here against the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings bank on behalf of Miss Elsie DeWolfe of New York.

The United States government probably will be asked to aid in defense of the bill, according to Levy Mayer, counsel for the bank, who said he would seek a conference with Attorney General McReynolds to discuss carrying the action to the United States supreme court for a ruling.

The declaration, filed by Bourke Cockran of New York and Colin Fyffe of Chicago, for Miss DeWolfe, alleges that the tax violates the fifth amendment to the constitution, in that it deprives her of property without due process of law, and that it violates the fourteenth amendment, in denying her equal protection under the law.

The graduated scale of taxation, the declaration alleges, discriminates unjustly against persons of income under $100,000 a year, "usually gained from industrial and artistic pursuits," in favor of those with incomes of more than $100,000 a year. Miss DeWolfe was an actress. She retired from the stage in 1905 and is at present in Paris.

The suit was brought to compel the bank to pay the interest on 30 bonds of a power company which, the bill states, the bank had declined to pay unless Miss DeWolfe filed a certificate of ownership as provided by the income tax law. Damages of $1,000 are asked in each of five counts.

The plaintiff alleges that the income tax is not uniform and that the law is therefore unconstitutional, because: "It is imposed on only 423,000 in a population of about 90,000,000 and the persons who would pay the tax have not consented to its imposition; and the tax violates the elements of equality in its graduated scale of taxation."

The plaintiff points out that she, being an unmarried woman, is subject not only to a tax of 1 per cent on her whole income in excess of $3,000, but is subject to an additional tax of 1 per cent on that portion exceeding $20,000 and less than $50,000; an additional 1 per cent between $50,000 and $75,000, and an additional 1 per cent between $75,000 and $100,000.

THE FEED THAT MAKES CHEAP BEEF

Herbert Quick, editor of Farm and Fireside, tells the following story in the current issue of his publication apropos of the value of alfalfa:

"Three years ago a stockman, who farms about 1,100 acres of the finest land in Ohio, was much in favor of alfalfa. He is a very progressive farmer, but, like most of us, he was running along in the old corn-wheat-clover fashion. He had two men feeding for him—one an old colored man who had been with him a long time, and the other an agricultural-college man. He also had a few acres of alfalfa. There was a contest on between the old colored man and the expert as to which could put more weight per head per month on their respective herds. The first month's weighing showed the expert in the lead. The next weighing put the colored man so far ahead that the expert wondered how it could be. Both herds had good, running water. Both had plenty of good timothy and clover hay. Both had all the good corn they could manage. Was the old negro a better feeder than the college man?

It seemed so; but the expert, being scientifically educated, began looking for the reason in a scientific way. He found that the only difference was to be found in the fact that the crafty old colored man had been systematically mixing alfalfa-hay with the ration! The protein in the alfalfa had been going into the muscles and bones of the cattle he fed.

"A good stockman needed no further proof as to the value of alfalfa over timothy and clover. Acting on this proof, he began working into alfalfa. He plans to build more silos, and as soon as he can will make his feeding ration one of corn-silage, ear corn and alfalfa-hay. This ration is shown by the tests at Lincoln, Nebraska, to be the feed that will make beef cheaper.

CHILDREN WORK IN MILLS.

10.4 Per Cent of Employees in Cotton Mills Under Sixteen Years Old.

Washington.—Of the 387,771 persons employed in the cotton goods industry in 1909 in the United States, 39,306, or 10.4 per cent, were children under sixteen years of age and half of them girls, according to a final report of the census bureau. Alabama, North and South Carolina employ 19 per cent of children and Massachusetts 5.7 per cent. These children worked on an average of from fifty-four to sixty hours a week.

The 1,324 establishments in the industry produced $628,391,813 worth of goods. The cost of materials totaled $371,009,470, and the total paid in salaries and wages was $147,270,903.

There was an increase of the previous census of 25.5 per cent in the number of plants, and the total capital invested in the industry in 1909 was $822,237,520, an increase of 76 per cent over 1899.

SHOE LEATHER GROWS SCARCE

It is not very comforting for those who have a number of little feet to cover with shoes each month, to be told that the price of shoe leather is apt to go still higher. Everyone knows that certain brands of shoes that used to cost four and five dollars, are now sold at six and seven. It used to be possible to shoe a child for about a dollar and a half. The same shoes now cost two and a half, or more.

The same tendencies which are at work to keep up the price of meat, operate to keep up the price of leather. The animals furnishing beef sole hides were priced at 19 1/2 cents; in July, they were 22 cents; in January 1912, they were 24 cents; in January 1913, the price was 26 cents; in August 1913, it was 27 1/2 cents—an increase of 40 per cent in less than three years. This accounts, in gratulation.

In the matter of the cost of shoes, as in many other things, the new tariff schedule is not likely to furnish much relief judging from statements made by the shoe men. One well posted dealer says we are confronted with the prospect that within a few years men's shoes that now cost the consumer $6 will be sold at $10. Women's shoes that now cost the consumer $4 will be sold at $6 and $7. Better material and workmanship are urged so as to make the buyer more nearly satisfied with his purchase.

Some concrete figures will give some idea of the situation as regards hides. In January, 1911, standard and hides are not raised, consequently the food article and the foot covering are continually costing more as the years go by. Meat may be dispensed with to a degree, but shoes must be worn. A suit of clothes can be made to do extra duty as to time, but when a pair of shoes are worn out they must be renewed.

There is no staple that is so continually in demand as shoes. There is no substitute; cheapness and poor quality defeat themselves, and the sustainer of a family never gets away from the constant demand for regular renewal of the footwear of the household. The prospect, therefore, that prices of shoe leather will go even higher in the near future does not contain cause for satisfaction or consolation, for the gradual increase in the price of shoes. During the safe period calf-skins increased 25 per cent in price.—Springfield Sun.

STORY IS SUBSTANTIATED BY A NEW YORK ATTORNEY

Well Known New York Attorney, Reuben Peckham, in This City Last Night and Issues Statement in Connection With Brutal Treatment of Hugh C. Weir in Buffalo and His Experience Here, Defending Claims Made—Will Send Detective as Guard.

In response to information from the city regarding the disappearance and subsequent finding of Hugh C. Weir, Tuesday evening, Reuben Peckham, chief assistant to Jas. W. Osborne, special state prosecutor of New York and chief counsel for Collier's Weekly, in the $100,000 damage case which comes up in Buffalo next week, arrived on the evening train for the purpose of seeing Mr. Weir and learning his experiences first hand.

After remaining with Mr. Weir until the late train for Columbus, he left for Buffalo, with the intention of immediately sending a detective here to protect their witness and accompany him to Buffalo when he is summoned to testify in the case.

While here Mr. Peckham related to a Herald representative the story of Mr. Weir's arrest and brutal handling in Buffalo, substantiating every detail of Mr. Weir's story, and taking a deep interest in the later experiences of Mr. Weir in this city.

He was greatly surprised that doubt should exist concerning the experiences of Mr. Weir in Buffalo and in this city, and stated that it was evident that those who doubted did not know the dangers connected with dealing with "big game".

The report that a Sunnyside woman saw Mr. Weir thrust into a machine on North street, is being investigated. Mr. Weir and a party of friends Wednesday afternoon went over the road in the neighborhood of where he believes the shots were fired, but traffic had obliterated virtually all tracks made the previous night.

Before leaving this city Mr. Peckham issued the following statement to the public:

"I have read with surprise an article appearing in The News of your city, which strongly intimates that the Connor Hibel suit against Collier's is a myth. This action has been pending for upwards of three years, and last appeared on the calendar of the Supreme court of Erie county, New York, on the 1st of December. At the request of the plaintiff, an adjournment was taken until Dec 8. The defendant anticipates proceedings at that time.

"I have also read with much surprise the intimation that Weir's arrest in Buffalo was predicated upon a disordered mind. The outrageous treatment to which Weir was subjected by the Buffalo police is a matter of record, and any newspaper desirous of printing the truth could easily have verified Weir's statement. I may add that the police of Buffalo have not heard the last of this high handed proceeding.

"I have had a lengthy conference with Mr. Weir and have yet to be advised of any facts which would lead me to doubt the truth of his narrative. I am impressed with Mr. Weir's rationality, and he certainly shows no evidence of either hallucinations, illusion or delusions."

M'ADOO BUSY

Washington, D. C., December 4.—Secretary McAdoo is not disturbed by the suit filed in Chicago to test the income tax, and will go on making collections while the suit is pending. Should the Supreme court later decide against the law, money collected will be refunded.

SUGAR GROVE W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Wert Elliott hospitably entertained the Sugar Grove W. C. T. U. yesterday afternoon.

The subjects of "Health" and "Hereditry", were of vital interest and were taken up in two papers, "The Child's Right to be Well Born" and "Hereditry a Fact".

After the usual physical culture feature refreshments were served.

Mrs. Scott Fisher entertains the society in two weeks.

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY

Ten women of the "Social Ten" of the Wesley Chapel Aid Society, entertained the ladies of the society and their husbands delightfully at the chapel last evening.

The national colors were used in decoration and a pleasing program rendered.

Mrs. Fanny Kidd played a solo, Miss Vera Veall gave an entertaining reading, "The Romance of a Trolley Car", and Mrs. H. V. Rogers read a story.

A quartet of singers made their initial appearance on a musical program and brought down the house by their rendering of "Four Little Kittens". They were Mesdames H. V. Rogers, Wm. Bishop, George Davis and Mrs. Jess Blackmore.

A tempting luncheon was served and the evening was both a social and financial success.

The entertainers were Mesdames Rogers, Blackmore, Ellison, Bishop, Updyke, Ellis Bishop, Geo. Davis, J. W. Hughey, Householder, Miss Fannie O'Day.

A quiet wedding took place at Grace parsonage Wednesday evening at 7:30, when Miss Linnie Lloyd was united in marriage to Mr. John Sparks, Rev. F. E. Ross officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Lloyd, of Clinton avenue, and has been an efficient operator of the Bell Telephone Co., for the past three years. She was handsomely gowned in a blue tailored suit with hat to match.

Attending the young couple were the sisters of the bridegroom, Mrs. Kate Bernard and Miss Nettie Sparks.

The bridegroom, the son of Mrs. Lucinda Sparks, has leased a farm at Fruitdale, and left with his bride, on the morning train for their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Sparks take with them the best wishes of many Washington friends.

REMAINS BROUGHT FROM COLUMBUS

The remains of Mr. Claude Hare, who died in Chicago Monday, arrived on the 3:32 B. & O. train Wednesday and were taken directly to the Washington cemetery for burial in the family lot. The widow of the deceased, brother, Mr. Ernest Hare, and wife, of Minneapolis, Minn., and Mrs. McGruger, accompanied the remains from Chicago and were joined at Columbus by the mother, Mrs. D. H. Hare and sister, Miss Blanche.

Rev. Cherrington, presiding elder, and several Columbus friends, Mrs. T. Hare and Mr. Ernest Cherrington, of Westerville.

A number of friends met the train and drove with the family to the cemetery, where Rev. Cherrington conducted brief services at the grave. The family returned to Columbus on the 5:52 B. & O.

SOME FIGURES ABOUT RED CROSS SEALS

Few people have any idea of the magnitude of the Red Cross Christmas Seal campaign. This year over 100,000,000 seals have been printed and distributed. They have been sent to over 25,000 different agents and will be sold and handled by an army of not less than 100,000 volunteers, including men, women and children.

It is hoped that at least 50,000,000 seals may be sold this year. The principle upon which the sale of seals is based is that every cent except what little is needed to cover the actual cost of printing and handling shall be spent for tuberculosis work in the community where the seals are sold.

STORY IS SUBSTANTIATED BY A NEW YORK ATTORNEY

Well Known New York Attorney, Reuben Peckham, in This City Last Night and Issues Statement in Connection With Brutal Treatment of Hugh C. Weir in Buffalo and His Experience Here, Defending Claims Made—Will Send Detective as Guard.

In response to information from the city regarding the disappearance and subsequent finding of Hugh C. Weir, Tuesday evening, Reuben Peckham, chief assistant to Jas. W. Osborne, special state prosecutor of New York and chief counsel for Collier's Weekly, in the $100,000 damage case which comes up in Buffalo next week, arrived on the evening train for the purpose of seeing Mr. Weir and learning his experiences first hand.

After remaining with Mr. Weir until the late train for Columbus, he left for Buffalo, with the intention of immediately sending a detective here to protect their witness and accompany him to Buffalo when he is summoned to testify in the case.

While here Mr. Peckham related to a Herald representative the story of Mr. Weir's arrest and brutal handling in Buffalo, substantiating every detail of Mr. Weir's story, and taking a deep interest in the later experiences of Mr. Weir in this city.

He was greatly surprised that doubt should exist concerning the experiences of Mr. Weir in Buffalo and in this city, and stated that it was evident that those who doubted did not know the dangers connected with dealing with "big game".

The report that a Sunnyside woman saw Mr. Weir thrust into a machine on North street, is being investigated. Mr. Weir and a party of friends Wednesday afternoon went over the road in the neighborhood of where he believes the shots were fired, but traffic had obliterated virtually all tracks made the previous night.

Before leaving this city Mr. Peckham issued the following statement to the public:

"I have read with surprise an article appearing in The News of your city, which strongly intimates that the Connor libel suit against Collier's is a myth. This action has been pending for upwards of three years, and last appeared on the calendar of the Supreme court of Erie county, New York, on the 1st of December. At the request of the plaintiff, an adjournment was taken until Dec. 8. The defendant anticipates proceedings at that time.

"I have also read with much surprise the intimation that Weir's arrest in Buffalo was predicated upon a disordered mind. The outrageous treatment to which Weir was subjected by the Buffalo police is a matter of record, and any newspaper desirous of printing the truth could easily have verified Weir's statement. I may add that the police of Buffalo have not heard the last of this high handed proceeding.

"I have had a lengthy conference with Mr. Weir and have yet to be advised of any facts which would lead me to doubt the truth of his narrative. I am impressed with Mr. Weir's rationality, and he certainly shows no evidence of either hallucinations, illusion or delusions."

M'ADOO BUSY

Washington, D. C., December 4.—Secretary McAdoo is not disturbed by the suit filed in Chicago to test the income tax, and will go on making collections while the suit is pending. Should the Supreme court later decide against the law, money collected will be refunded.

SUGAR GROVE W. C. T. U.
Mrs. Wert Elliott hospitably entertained the Sugar Grove W. C. T. U. yesterday afternoon.

The subjects of "Health" and "Hereditry", were of vital interest and were taken up in two papers, "The Child's Right to be Well Born" and "Hereditry a Fact".

Mrs. Scott Fisher entertains the society in two weeks.

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY

Ten women of the "Social Ten" of the Wesley Chapel Aid Society, entertained the ladies of the society and their husbands delightfully at the chapel last evening.

The national colors were used in decoration and a pleasing program rendered.

Mrs. Fanny Kidd played a solo, Miss Vera Veil gave an entertaining reading, "The Romance of a Trolley Car", and Mrs. H. V. Rogers read a story.

A quartet of singers made their initial appearance on a musical program and brought down the house by their rendering of "Four Little Kittens". They were Mesdames H. V. Rogers, Wm. Bishop, George Davis and Mrs. Jess Blackmore.

A tempting luncheon was served and the evening was both a social and financial success.

The entertainers were Mesdames Rogers, Blackmore, Ellison, Bishop, Updyke, Ellis Bishop, Geo. Davis, J. W. Hughey, Householder, Miss Fannie O'Day.

A quiet wedding took place at Grace parsonage Wednesday evening at 7:30, when Miss Linnie Lloyd was united in marriage to Mr. John Sparks, Rev. F. E. Ross officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Lloyd, of Clinton avenue, and has been an efficient operator of the Bell Telephone Co., for the past three years. She was handsomely gowned in a blue tailored suit with hat to match.

Attending the young couple were the sisters of the bridegroom, Mrs. Kate Bernard and Miss Nettie Sparks.

The bridegroom, the son of Mrs. Lucinda Sparks, has leased a farm at Fruitdale, and left with his bride, on the morning train for their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Sparks take with them the best wishes of many Washington friends.

REMAINS BROUGHT FROM COLUMBUS

The remains of Mr. Claude Hare, who died in Chicago Monday, arrived on the 3:32 B. & O. train Wednesday and were taken directly to the Washington cemetery for burial in the family lot. The widow of the deceased, brother, Mr. Ernest Hare, and wife, of Minneapolis, Minn., and Mrs. McGruger, accompanied the remains from Chicago and were joined at Columbus by the mother, Mrs. D. H. Hare and sister, Miss Blanche.

Rev. Cherrington, presiding elder and several Columbus friends, Mrs. T. Hare and Mr. Ernest Cherrington, of Westerville.

A number of friends met the train and drove with the family to the cemetery, where Rev. Cherrington conducted brief services at the grave. The family returned to Columbus on the 5:52 B. & O.

SOME FIGURES ABOUT RED CROSS SEALS

Few people have any idea of the magnitude of the Red Cross Christmas Seal campaign. This year over 100,000,000 seals have been printed and distributed. They have been sent to over 25,000 different agents and will be sold and handled by an army of not less than 100,000 volunteers, including men, women and children.

It is hoped that at least 50,000,000 seals may be sold this year. The principle upon which the sale of seals is based is that every cent except what little is needed to cover the actual cost of printing and handling shall be spent for tuberculosis work in the community where the seals are sold.

WILL PURCHASE ANOTHER FARM

Mr. E. B. Hukill went to Greene county Thursday to close negotiations for a large farm, known as the Shoup-Howard estate, some six miles from Xenia, near the Spring Valley Traction line, and proposes to convert the farm into a dairy farm, to supply milk to the Dayton creameries. Mr. Hukill has a number of farms in this and adjoining counties.
